

Chief Technology Officer (CTO)

annanow® a true Swiss tech start-up company, is driven by a global vision, technology and consumer demand. We enable our clients to sell faster and transact smarter.

While we have had a fantastic journey so far, we are now shifting to the next level and therefore further strengthen our leadership team.

The CTO will drive the technical development of platform, products and related services. He ensures a state-of-the-art software architecture and takes responsibility for a target orientated usage of all IT resources. The CTO will take together with the management team a global perspective on market opportunities and customer needs.

Key Accountabilities & Responsibilities

- Driving and overseeing architecture and technical designs for platform, products and solutions
- Supporting external partners, building the technology team and developing the maturity in terms of quality with respect to architecture and technical design and coding practices
- Plays a key role for the company when supporting investor relations and internally as a sparring partner with the company's commercial functions
- Effectively managing, inspiring and mentoring the team's performance
- Enhancing and defining the processes and procedures for the productivity and quality of the solutions and development teams
- Evaluating emerging technologies and industry trends and applying them to enhance the projects and teams
- External technology face of the company: Participating in architectural discussions with clients

Experience & Expertise

- Master's degree in computer science or similar
- Several years of experience with coding or architectural design and leadership experience in developing innovative software platforms
- Experience in building up high performing teams in start-up environment
- Excellent communication skills (German and English)
- Outstanding sales management skills
- Experience in designing and operating distributed services
- Ability to work effectively in a complex, diverse and changing environment
- Excellent leadership skills, ability to influence, engage and motivate highly talented people to inspire great performance across departments
- Ability to balance being highly analytical and creative

We offer...

- An exciting role with big impact on the shaping of the future of our quick commerce company
- Talented and highly experienced colleagues who loves to solve problems together
- Competitive start-up compensation (salary and stock option grants - details to be agreed)
- Central offices downtown Zürich, close to all public transportation
- A journey to remember

Application

- Resume
- Personal motivation letter explaining why you are a great fit for a CTO-role in a start-up company

If you want to contribute to scale and develop an ambitious Swiss tech company, and join a group of passionate, dedicated, relentless and caring people, we would like to hear from you.

Are you interested in this role? We look forward to receiving your application at careers@annanow.com.